WHEN NEW YORK TURNS OUT TO BALL GAMES

HOW THE CROWD ENCRONCHED ON THE BALLFIELD

Baseball's firm hold upon the affection of the American public was demonstrated on the opening day of this great national game by the presence, upon seven different fields in as many cities, of approximately 125,000 persons when the season for the two major leagues was opened formally. Rain bars St. Louis from the total.

An average expenditure of fifty cents by each person shows that $62,500 was invested in enjoyment of the greatest of national amusements in these large communities alone. At no time in the varying history of the game have the prospects for a splendid season been brighter on the opening day. There is an assured promise of financial success as well as an improvement of the sport. The first day's attendance shows the public purse to be open to its full width for healthy amusement, and there is no club in the National or the American League which does not feel that it is in much better shape to wage a pennant contest than it has been at any time in the past. There is a freedom from complications about franchises and about players and a harmony of the men constituting individual clubs which are distinctly noticeable. Where a few of the veterans have disappeared from the limelight a lively lot of youngsters has forged to the front to fill the vacant places and work for the fresher laurels.

The attendance by cities was: National League—Brooklyn, 21,000; Philadelphia, 17,000; Cincinnati, 15,000; St. Louis, no game (rain). American League—New York, 23,000; Chicago, 20,000; Cleveland, 15,000; Boston, 14,000.

Transportation Com'tee Organized This Morning

The Transportation Committee of the Fleet Committee met this morning and organized. As there are several important features which this committee will have to handle it was decided to distribute the work in the various branches to different sub-committees which will act under the control of the general committee. F. E. Richardson presided and the following sub-committees were selected: Railroad—F. C. Smith, chairman; R. J. Jordan and W. H. Smith. Rapid Transit—C. G. Ballentyne, chairman; Captain South and Gen. E. Henshall. Automobiles—E. J. Lord, chairman; J. A. Kennedy, Gus Schuman, A. A. Young and Stanley Kennedy.

CHILIAN CRUISER ARRIVES IN PORT

"General Banquedano" Here For Short Visit

With the Brazilian cruiser Copacabana already in port, the Chilean corvette General Banquedano, Captain Roberto Garay, came in the harbor early this morning. She is 22 days out of Valparaiso and 76 days out of Yokohama. The vessel is on a casual cruise, with lots of time in which to make it, and is proceeding in a leisurely fashion.

She fired the national salute of twenty-one guns on entering the harbor, and came to anchor in the stream. She is a pretty craft, built on the lines of a sailing vessel of a rather old type, and hark rigged. She carries steam power, also, however. With the Chilean flag floating from her stern, and the blue pennant at

"KEEP M'VEIGH," SAYS MOLOKAIA

Petition Presented Signed By 806 Persons At Settlement

That the residents in the leper settlement at Molokai are altogether in favor of the retention of Jack McVeigh as their superintendent, was amply shown when they presented a petition to the President of the Board of Health, L. E. Cofer, and Acting Governor Mott-Smith. The petition is signed by 806 persons, and is presented below.

"There is nothing but general satisfaction to be said with regard to the investigation of the administration of Jack McVeigh at Molokai," was the official statement of Acting Governor Mott-Smith this morning just before he left for an inspection of the Kaneohe lands on the other side of the island. The Acting Gov-

EWA POLICE MAKE AMPHIBIOUS RAID

Swim Through Stream And Surprise Chinese Gamblers

A successful but strenuous raid was made a couple of days ago by Deputy Sheriff Jack Fernandez of Ewa and Officers John Leal and Kahe on a gambling den at Waiawa, which for a long time past had defied the efforts of the police. The game was conducted in the cook-house of a rice plantation about 150 feet from the Waiawa stream, and between it and the stream was a barn and dwelling-house, on the veranda of which the gamblers had a guard posted. Furthermore, they had a guard patrolling the bank of the stream while another watched on the other side of

WAIKAWA BOOZE MAKERS ARRESTED

Japanese Moonshiners Caught by Jack Fernandez

Makers of that delicious concoction commonly known as illicit booze have been running in the meshes of the law lately, thus proving it to be a somewhat unprofitable business for those who would distill without consulting the authorities. Three Japanese were caught yesterday at Waiawa who were engaged in the manufacture of booze of different kinds, and this morning they were brought to Honolulu.

Deputy Sheriff Fernandez discovered the distillers in Waiawa gulch at Waiawa yesterday. Their names are given as Fukushima Okozuka and Shibata, though these are not supposed to be correct. Four gallons of kokeshu were on the premises, and a large amount of mash was destroyed at the still. From all the reports that have been received so far, the men had a very complete plant for the manufacture of liquor. Their cases were this morning continued until Monday for trial.
